We decided to try with just a pan of water and straws. I demonstrated for them once, blowing as hard as I could to part the water. They were ready to try, and went for it. The Bear tried everything he could with multiple straws, different blowing techniques, and changing angles, but he could barely get the water to part. The Pearl Girl was just happy to blow and stir the water. I could get it to part for about 2 inches when I tried really hard. We talked about how powerful God is and how He used His power to save Israel. We talked about how if God is big enough to do part the Red Sea, He is certainly big enough to lead us and protect us.
